Re: Cost Recovery Action with Respect to Kin-Buc Landfill

Gentlemen:

Your company was informed through a letter dated January 11, 1984 that the United States Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA") has documented the release and threatened release of hazardous substances, pollutants and contaminants at the Kin-Buc Landfill, located on Meadow Road in Edison, New Jersey. In response to those releases and threatened releases, and pursuant to the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980, 42 U.S.C. §9601 et seq. ("CERCLA"), and the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. §1251 et seq., the United States has expended public funds in the amount of approximately $5,000,000 (FIVE MILLION DOLLARS).

As further explained in EPA's previous letter to your company, under CERCLA and other laws, parties responsible for the release or threatened release of hazardous substances into the environment from an uncontrolled hazardous waste site may be liable for all monies expended by the federal government to take necessary response actions at such facilities, including investigation, planning, removal, and remedial actions at these facilities; such parties may also be held liable for any enforcement costs incurred by the government. Under CERCLA, responsible parties include, in addition to current and past owners and operators of a facility, those persons who generated the hazardous substances or who were involved in transport, treatment, or disposal of those substances at the site. Your company was previously identified as one of those additional responsible parties within the intent of CERCLA.

The expenditure of these funds arose partly as a result of EPA's preliminary actions taken to mitigate and abate releases and threatened releases from the Kin-Buc Landfill facility into the environment. Other expenses were incurred as a result of EPA's enforcement actions to assure the ultimate implementation of a permanent remedy at the Kin-Buc Landfill facility to the environmental situation which currently prevails there. These enforcement actions include a civil action commenced by the United States in 1979 and an administrative order issued with respect to the Kin-Buc Landfill facility by EPA pursuant to §106 of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. §9606, in September of 1983. The same corporations and individuals constitute the defendants in, and respondents to, these federal actions.

Both as a result of EPA's issuance of that order and as a result of ongoing litigation in the matter of Earthline Company et al. v. Kin-Buc, Inc. et al., Civil Action No. 83-4226 (D. N.J.), trial of which commenced July 30, 1984, EPA does not currently anticipate that additional public funds will be expended at the Kin-Buc facility to implement remedial activities as required in its September 1983 order. Those activities are summarized in EPA's January 11, 1984 letter. However, should the respondents fail to comply with the requirements of the EPA order at any time in the future, EPA will immediately undertake the performance of those actions necessary to carry to completion the implementation of the remedy determined to be necessary for the Kin-Buc Landfill facility.

Any additional actions undertaken by EPA at the facility will be paid for, initially, with public funds. All responsible parties will be held jointly and severally liable for reimbursement to the government of such expenditures. The next expenditure to be made at the facility under EPA's order is the implementation of a permanent remedy, which is in the process of being selected pursuant to a Remedial Investigation and Feasibility Study of the facility prepared and submitted on behalf of Earthline Company, a respondent to EPA's 1983 order.

Despite recent efforts by EPA to reach an understanding with certain owners and/or operators and/or major transporters of wastes to the Landfill with respect to reimbursement of the funds expended by the United States, no offer for payment has been forthcoming, and further attempts at such a resolution do not appear promising. EPA has, therefore, determined to exercise its right to commence a civil action for recovery of such sums pursuant to §107 of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. §9607.

Nevertheless, prior to commencement of such an action in which your company, as an identified generator, transporter, or disposer of wastes at the Kin-Buc Landfill, would be a potential defendant, EPA is, through this letter, extending an opportunity to representatives of a generator's committee, or representatives of a small number of generators' committees, to identify themselves and to examine the documentation underlying EPA's claim to reimbursement preparatory to making an offer of reimbursement to the United States on behalf of the generators represented. Such an offer, if satisfactory to the United States, could obviate the necessity of bringing the intended recoupment action with respect to some or all of the potential defendants. Disclosure of the government's documentation to appropriate representatives of the generators will be made only following execution of suitable protective agreements, or entry into suitable protective orders, concerning the confidentiality of certain portions of that documentation.

To assist in the formation of the generators' committee(s) and to facilitate further communication among the generators, EPA has compiled a list of current names, addresses, and identities of designated contact representatives of parties responding to its January 11 letter, a copy of which is enclosed herewith. The enclosure also identifies the major contributors to the Kin-Buc Landfill facility based upon records in the possession of the Agency.

EPA's offer to generators' representatives to arrange for reimbursement of as yet unreimbursed expenses of the United States will be extended only until 60 (SIXTY) days from the date of this letter, unless prior to that date such substantial progress has been made in arranging for payment as would justify further forbearance on the part of the government from commencement of a civil action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §9607.

Communications with EPA on this matter by generator committee representatives or directly by representatives of the major contributors of waste disposed of at Kin-Buc should be directed to Henry Gluckstern, Attorney, Waste and Toxic Substances Branch, Office of Regional Counsel, Room 437, at the above address.

Sincerely yours,

William J. Librizzi
